Blood Corruption	Puppet Strings	Restless Spirits	Echoing Curse
Choose a Good player. They register as Evil.	Choose a Good player. All their votes are secretly changed to Fail. Dracula may only cast Pass votes.	Place a Spirit between any 2 players and choose whether it registers as Good or Evil. Do this twice.	Whenever Dracula votes Fail, it is treated as a Pass in their current room. The next room automatically Fails.
Twisted Whispers	Winged Spies	Blood Effigy	Dark Veil
Choose a player. In their 1-person room, a Pass gives false information and a Fail gives true information.	Learn all Hunter roles in play. Choose a Hunter. That chosen role receives false information. 5 player rules only - Add a random Hunter. This allows Evil to win through Dracula's Last Chance.	Choose a Good player. They register as Dracula and Dracula registers as a Bride. Good must shoot that chosen player to win.	Choose Good players equal to the number of Evil players. One registers as Evil and Dracula. The rest register as Evil and Brides. All Evil players register as Good only. Dracula is disguised as Renfield. Good must shoot Renfield to win.

1. FORM HUNTING PARTY

Nominate players to join the Hunting Party. Each nominee must receive votes from at least half of the players. Continue until the party reaches the required size (1 more than Evil team).

Evil wins immediately if any Evil player joins the Hunting Party.

2. SHOOT DRACULA

The last player to join the Hunting Party receives the Crossbow and chooses one player to shoot.

If Dracula is shot, Good wins.

Otherwise, Evil wins.

3. DRACULA'S LAST CHANCE

If Dracula is shot, he gets one chance to steal the victory.

If he can name 2 Hunters (6–8 players) or 3 Hunters (9+ players), Evil wins.

Otherwise, Good wins.

Skip this step in a 5-player game.
